

WHAT IS DOTERRA OILS AND WHY SHOULD I JOIN?

You may have heard about our journey, but now you want to know what all the fuss is about and how to join doTERRA and be successful

There is a place for everyone to join doTERRA?

I have been asked a few times about what is expected of a Wellness Advocate? Do we work long hours? Do we all need to aspire to be highly successful? Are we all hyped up and existed? Or are we all yoga teachers and aromatherapists? The simple answer is that we are none of them and in some cases all of them. In my opinion, we are broken down into three philosophical mindset types: Users, Sharer and finally builders / leaders

USERS

Prominently the user, uses the products and makes no real attempt to reach out to people or sell the oils. If someone asks them that they are interested in the business they normally decline because they do not want the responsibility involved with working with other and helping them with their business. Read More

SHARERS

The sharer is a wellness advocate that simply wants to share the products on a low key bases. In other words, a bit like a User but more willing and able to run doTERRA as a small business. Read More

BUILDERS / LEADERS

The builder or the leader is a very different type of Wellness Advocate. Their mindset is radically different from the User and the Sharer in an important way, they dream big and they are willing to sacrifices things in their lives to achieve personal, financial and business success. Read More

I recently wrote an article, where I asked the question, "How do you see yourself in 5 years if you do nothing?" and asked the reader to consider their last 5 years and see it as a predictor of the next 5 years. Today is a new beginning and the day that you say, let's make a change and become a doTERRA Wellness Advocate.

Source:

what-is-doterra.global-aroma.com